STAFF

Skillful Leadership

Mr. Hodges has had the unenviable task of stepping into some large shoes, and he has had certainly filled them skillfully. The job of principal involves the total school and community — dealing with students, teachers, staff, administration, and parents. It is a mark of pride that, as principal, Mr. Hodges has continued to build upon the respect and good record he earned as assistant principal. Our congratulations and best wishes go to him!

Supervision And Planning

Mr. Dillon has the complex job of assistant principal for activities. In his work, he is responsible for scheduling of all school events, from club meetings and sports to the sock hop, and also ordering of supplies and equipment. Mr. Dillon helps in administration in discipline, scheduling, general office routine, and his supervision of hall monitors and student assistants.

Mr. Dillon works on a supply order.

Assistance To Everyone

Mr. Montgomery serves us all as assistant principal and third-in-command. In this capacity, he works in supervisory, disciplinary and advisory areas. Leaving his math classes for administrative work, Mr. Montgomery works with students and faculty in planning, scheduling and general school operation.

Secretaries Help Keep Us Going

Mrs. Bussey pauses in her record-keeping.

Three special people in our offices are our administrative secretaries. Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Bussey and Mrs. Montgomery perform their duties with little fanfare, and help our days run more smoothly.

As business manager and bookkeeper, Mrs. Montgomery has charge of school funds, the bookstore and special accounts. Mrs. Adams, school and administrative secretary, works for Mr. Hodges, Mr. Dillon and Mr. Montgomery, and takes care of other school matters. Mrs. Bussey is the secretary for guidance and instruction. She plays a large part in the keeping of school records.

Mrs. Montgomery serves as business manager.

Guidance Counselors Aid All Of Us

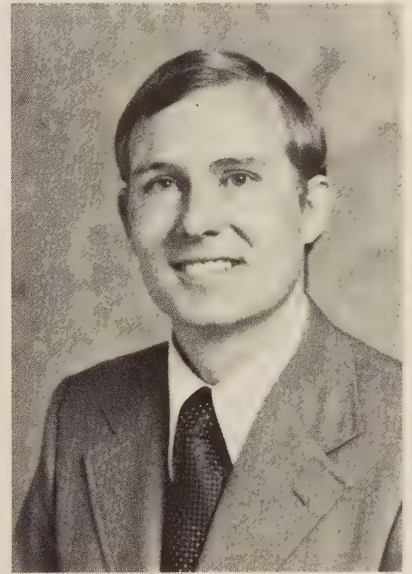

Constantly busy with mounds of paperwork, scheduling, testing programs and everyday routine, our guidance counselors are still available for students and their needs and problems. Mr. Flora, as Guidance Director, is a mainstay for us all. Mrs. Jones and Mr. Burnett, working under him, help in all areas of guidance work, a very necessary part of the school and its purpose.

Body And Mind

The girls' and boys' Health and Physical Education Departments give students the opportunity for physical exercise and mental growth through their programs.

In Health, students learn about diseases, safety, drugs, personal health and hygiene, first aid and environmental health. Here they gain much practical knowledge and have the chance to contribute to the class by projects, discussions and reports.

In Physical Education, the student has an outlet for boundless energy and a means of learning and developing physical skills and aptitudes. They learn different team sports, and how to work as a team, as well as having the option to show individual talent in solo work, such as in tumbling.

Creative And Practical

Home Economics offers students the opportunity of learning to be intelligent homemakers and consumers. The girls learn basic skills in cooking, sewing and home management. Students learn the fundamentals of nutrition, creative possibilities and the fun and hard work which go along with homemaking.

The girls are given the chance to show the results of their training with the annual Christmas Tea, a fashion show and guest meals. This practical experience helps them in their personal lives from now on.

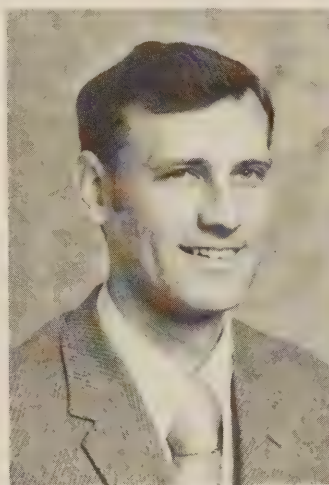

Learn For the Future

Vocational Agriculture provides students with the mental and mechanical skills needed for future vocational goals. These basic skills in mechanical work and agricultural areas are taught through classwork and special projects carried out by the boys.

Through local, state and national work through FFA, students compete with and learn from others. They also participate in regional judge meets and contests. Mr. Foster, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Watson give personal attention to students as they learn and develop talents which will be of use and interest to them, now and in the future.

Talent Training

Students in the Fine Arts receive a basis for future training in art and music. A wide range of talents are found, developed and expressed in these areas every year. The arts are taught as a basis for future work and as a source of personal satisfaction for the student.

In both music and art, student contributions help make up the class. Each student learns from others in the class as well as the instructor. These student contributions also aid the school, through art bulletin boards and band concerts.

School's Resource Center

As the collection center for books, newspapers, magazines, and special resources, the Library is important in the life of the entire school. Students and faculty use this room of knowledge, with the help of Mrs. Angle and Mrs. Lynch.

Students use the Library for homeroom, study hall, special class assignments and general interest materials. The Library and its staff are available for student use of materials stocked for this purpose. Books, magazines and newspapers are ordered to stimulate student interest and use.

The Library serves as a special resource center for the faculty as well. Teaching aids in the form of filmstrips, books, films and pamphlets are available to the faculty through the Library.

How and Why

The Math Department, in its curriculum of general math and algebra, strives to reach students where they are, and teach both the how and why of mathematical processes.

Math is made more real to the student by use of many audio-visual aids, such as filmstrips and puzzles, and by the use of everyday problems, such as knowledge of checkbooks and taxes. Teachers are also trying to get students ready for the change to the metric system. It is hoped that students will see the importance of math both in and out of school.

The English Department has the task of teaching and getting across the importance of poetry, drama, short story, novel, grammar and composition — the communication skills.

Just as there are many things to learn, so are there many ways to learn them. Discussion, interpretation, written work, lectures, exercises, filmstrips and the TV-videotape all enter into the program of the Department. It is hoped that students will learn to appreciate and use their improved communication skills.

Many Worlds To Explore

Arousing curiosity and impressing students with the importance of the scientific method is a major goal of the Science Department. Class lectures, labs, projects, and field work, including trips up Bald Knob and to Dixie Caverns, are used to open up the many worlds of science.

Courses in science are offered to stimulate student interest and provide a basis for more detailed courses later on. Students are urged to explore for themselves in lab work and to learn from the beautiful natural surroundings of our area.

For Aware Citizens

The Social Studies Department, in its World History and World Geography courses, gives the student the opportunity to learn about the world we live in. Students are encouraged to learn and practice good citizenship, to be aware of current events, to strive toward understanding of different cultures and to know what has gone before them.

Use is made of maps, charts, globes, films and other audio-visual aids, as well as the Library. Special reports, projects and activities give students the chance to work on topics of interest to them. This instruction aims toward more informed and responsible local, state and national citizens in the future.

Special Individual Work

MRS. BETTY SIMMONS, CHAIRMAN
B.S., Madison College
M. Ed., University of Virginia

The Special Education Department, though small, is an important part of the curriculum at FCJHS. This department has charge of working with those students with special educational needs, and works on a close individual basis to try to fulfill these needs.

Mrs. Simmons works in sections of Communication Skills and Mathematics, letting each student progress at his own level of achievement. Individualized materials and teaching procedures allow the student more specialized instruction.

Skills for the Future

MR. JEFF W. HIGHFILL, CHAIRMAN
B.A., King College

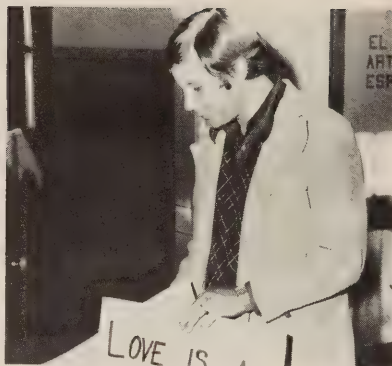

Mr. Highfill heads a new addition to the FCJHS curriculum. His classes in General Business provide instruction in skills for future vocational plans and goals. These classes give a basic background in business skills and practices.

As emphasis is placed more and more on vocational training and preparation, this department tries to focus on the need to prepare and learn now for future work and work possibilities. It also serves to promote business courses on the high school level.

For Two Schools

Because the Junior and Senior High Schools are so close together, some faculty members are shared between the two. Teachers in Business, Foreign Language, Physical Education, Math, English, Science and Choral Music work with students from both schools.

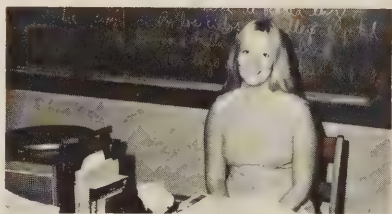

Foreign languages taught are Latin, French and Spanish. The Business Department works in Typing and General Business courses. Mrs. Keen, through the Choir, helps to enrich lives through music, and the choir adds to total school life in its assembly programs.

Important Workers

There are some very hard-working people "behind the scenes" at FCJHS — the special staffs of cafeteria workers, custodians, and the school nurse.

The cafeteria staff, led by Mrs. Gladys Anderson, is the group always ready when fourth period rolls around — to serve with a smile. In addition to the hearty meals served each day, they also provide special meals, in particular the Holiday Buffet.

Mrs. Dillon, the school nurse, serves both Junior and Senior High Schools — very capably. Mr. Horace Hicks remains the backbone of our custodial crew, faced with an endless job in picking up after all of us.

Mrs. Dillon pauses in her daily trek between the two schools.

Mr. Hicks is always ready when called upon.

Student Government

The Student Government is made up of the four school officers, the student council and the homeroom presidents. Mr. Hodges serves as the group's advisor, as they work during the year in many school activities. They are especially involved in the United Fund Drive and the Magazine Sales Campaign.

The four main officers are elected by the student body in the Spring of each year. Student council members are appointed officers, and the homeroom presidents are elected each Fall.

These students serve as school representatives in school and in the community. Their work for the school is important, and gives them experience in practical government.

project of her own, and the club as a whole works on many. The girls help families at Christmas, make toys for children and sponsor activities such as KOPE week.

The girls, headed by Mrs. Abrams for the Ninth and Mrs. Dudley and Mrs. Craddock for the Eighth, are fine representatives for all of us.

8th OFFICERS: J. Prillaman, President, R. Moore, Reporter, S. Hylton, Historian, D. Rigney, Chaplain, A. Swaine, Song Leader, E. Caskey, V. Pres., S. Clingpeel, Sec., B. Bowman, Treas.

The Hi-Y is a boy's service club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Burnett and Mr. Montgomery. Members strive to serve both the school and community through their service projects. The club has as its goals service, brotherhood, and dedication to religious ideals.

Club members pack Christmas boxes as part of a project.

Active Library Club

The Library Club serves the students and faculty throughout the year. The students who work in this capacity find the challenge and experience to be very rewarding, while rendering a most valuable service to the school. Led by Mrs. Angle and Mrs. Lynch, club members learn the organization, functions, and routine of a library.

Local, State, National

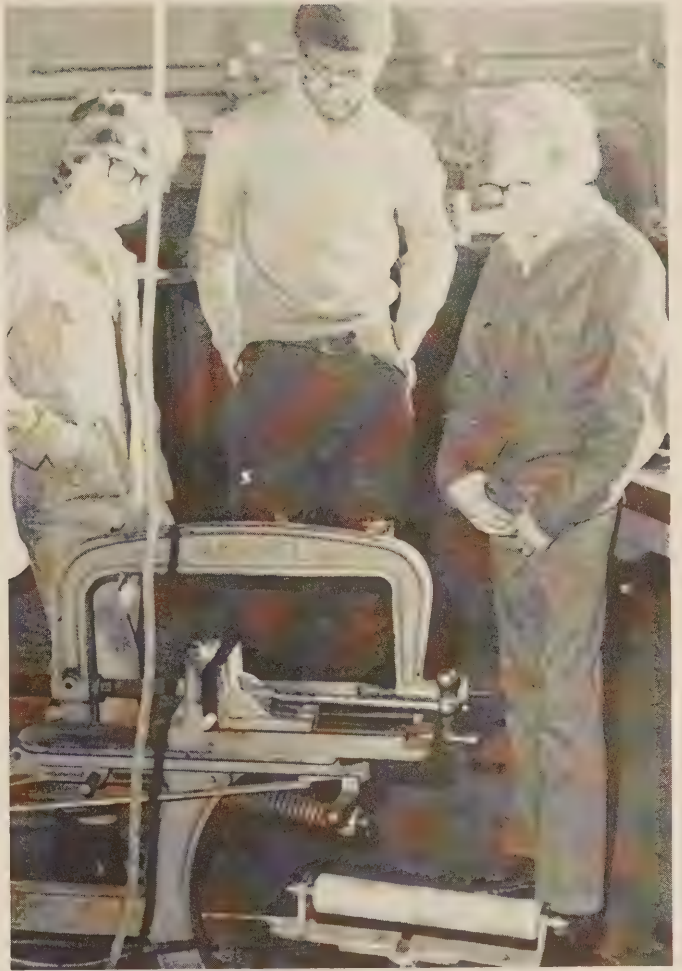

The Future Farmers of America is the largest club at FCJHS. This club, composed of all Vocational Agriculture students, helps its members learn and apply skills related to farm life and gives opportunities for local, state and national competition. Programs, projects, meetings, and contests help train members in practical skills and needed knowledge, and also allow for the exchange of ideas and friendship.

FFA OFFICERS: Row One: S. Metts, Sentinel; B. Bowman, President. Row Two: E. Jamison, Treasurer; M. Ellis, Secretary; T. Thomas, Reporter.

FHA—Future Homemakers of America

Handmade presents highlighted the Christmas Tea.

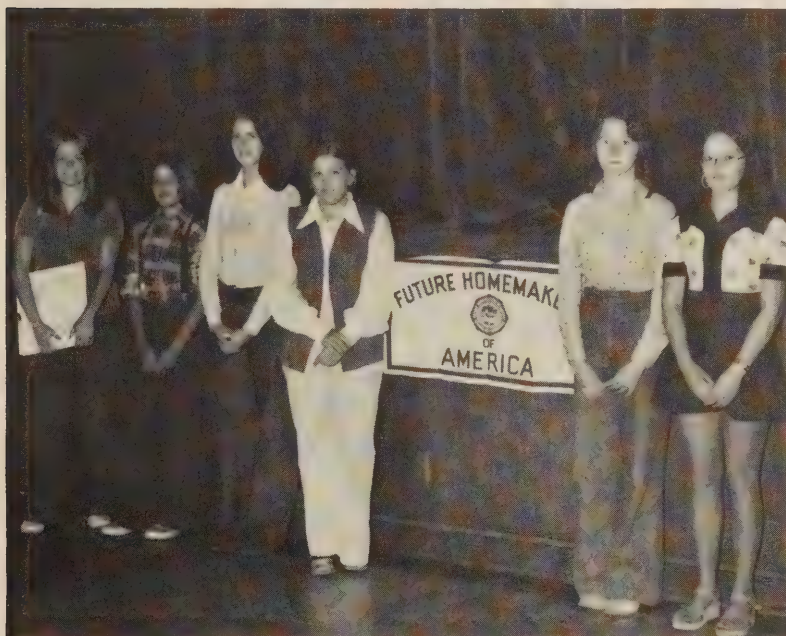

Halloween is always a good occasion for a party.

FHA is a national group which focuses its attention on all aspects of the modern home—consumer responsibility, manners and entertaining, housekeeping, and fun. Members go to meetings, have parties, make up skits and work on projects. All of these activities help them as they plan for futures in the home and community.

The girls use and discover many creative skills in needlework, crafts and cooking, and show them off to very good advantage at functions such as the annual Christmas Tea and the Spring Fashion Show.

Head Heart Hands Health

The motto of 4-H Club—Head, Heart, Hands, Health—shows the club's dedication to the development of the total person as a contributing member of the school and the community. 4-H works for the growth of values and principles which will help members be better citizens.

Members work in general areas of safety, health, agriculture, home economics and citizenship, and learn through projects, talks, camps and special speakers.

The club works on three levels—local, state, national—and gives its members opportunities for advancement through contests, such as competitions in public speaking which are held each year. Topics covered are as wide as student interests are, from teenage drug problems to citizenship and hobbies.

Mr. Tiggie, club sponsor, addresses the members.

Cheryl Jones delivers a speech at one of the meetings.

Smile For The Candid Cameras

The Eighth and Ninth Grade Photography Clubs, under the direction of Mr. Flora, look into the interesting and involved world and work of cameras. Members learn about photography and also have the chance to put into use their new knowledge by taking and developing their own pictures.

Photography is an important medium in today's world, and these students certainly have ample subjects in the school and their "hammy" classmates.

Officers of the Eighth Grade Photography Club are the following: B. Hopkins, President, M. Arrington, Vice President, and D. Young, Secretary. Ninth Grade Officers are: C. Johnson, President, B. Robinson, Vice President, and B. Campbell, Secretary.

Getting It All Together In The Record

A great bunch of people got together this year, and with layout sheets, picture croppers, lightboards, and hard work, turned out this year's copy of The Record. Along with the fun of seeing all the pictures comes the work of getting the pictures together and to the publisher. We just hope the effort has paid off, and each of you will enjoy this year's book.

The Business Managers, under Mr. Hodges' direction, worked to collect money and specifications for Music Rings Out!

Pursuing musical instruction, eighth and ninth grade band students increase their musical skills in preparation for being a part of the high school band, and also for the personal satisfaction and enrichment which comes from this type of work and practice. The bands, under the direction of Mr. Bateman, help promote skill in strummental music, performing, and individual talent. In their assembly performances and other functions, the band showed the ability to blend their musical skills by working as a group.

Practice For Performance

The Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Frances Keen, meets each day to improve in musical knowledge and skills. Individuals find and develop musical talents and then treat us all through their concerts and assemblies.

The Choir gives instruction in reading and performing music, and members put forth much effort in an elective course. Soloists gain performance experience, and a good time is had by all.

Much practice goes into the Choir's fine performances.

Mrs. Keen directs as Chuck Renick plays.

These students are members of the Latin Club.

E. Hudson and T. Mullins are dressed and ready for Spanish Club initiation.

We are fortunate to have three foreign language clubs at FCJHS—French, Spanish, and Latin. These clubs are made up of students of each of the three languages, and they work through their language and cultural studies to learn more about the cultures and customs of their respective languages and civilizations.

Students Work for School

A large group of students work for the school as student workers, cafeteria helpers and flag custodians. Student workers take time from their study halls to clean the halls, sweep, and help maintain order. Flag custodians raise and lower the flags in front of the school each day. Cafeteria workers keep very busy in their duties on the serving line, kitchen, snack bar, dishwashing and maintenance.

Interests Grow Through Math Club

The Math Club is the newest addition to the long list of activities at FCJHS. Already a large and interesting club, the Math Club hopes to give interested students new Math knowledge and skills by its meetings and games. Sponsored by Mr. Boggs, the club meets to answer student-voiced needs. At press time, all the officers were not elected, because of run-off elections. D. Goss was elected President, and M. Jefferson Vice President. There is a run-off for Secretary between L. Holland and R. Moore, and for Treasurer between D. Brooks and B. Law.

National Junior Honor Society

Led by Mr. Clayton and Mrs. Shively, the National Junior Honor Society is made up of those students who have earned a 3.8 grade average. This nationwide organization honors students who have attained not only high grades, but also good citizenship and character. Members are also selected on the criteria of leadership and service qualities. Each member deserves congratulation on membership in this well-known organization.

Introducing a large, active and interested club—the Chess Club! It's easy to spot a member—just look for the stooped shoulders and glassy eyes of one of these hopeful Bobby Fischers. Members seem to be everywhere, pursuing new challenges—homerooms, study halls, the Library, even the Cafeteria.

Sponsored by Mr. Handran, the club helps chess fans find new opponents and sharpen skills through scheduled Tuesday meetings and any other chances they get. A tournament of sorts was held, with Danny Brooks the runaway winner, and a good time was had by all during the whole year.

Great Season For Baby Eagles

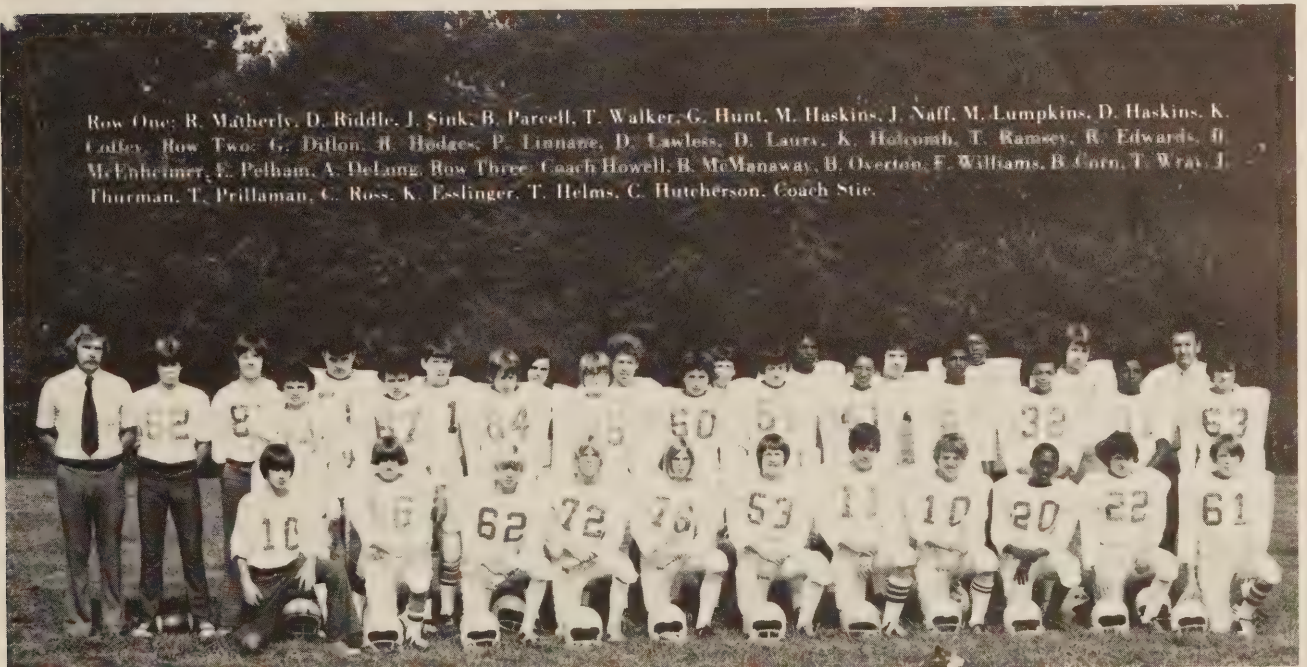

The Eighth Grade football team, coached by Mr. Stie and Mr. Howell, had a fantastic 7-1 record for 1974-75—the best record for the Baby Eagles since FCJHS opened! The combination of skill, hard work, good coaching and teamwork produced these fine results, and we're all certainly proud of the team.

It was a season featuring opening-play touchdown passes in six of eight games, and also a great kicker for punts and kick-offs.

The boys showed excellent sportsmanship and represented us well, and all are looking forward to another great year in 1975-76.

Frosh Football

The Ninth Grade football team had a rewarding season, finishing with a 4-4 record. Under the direction of Coaches McGrew and McKay, the players worked on fundamentals and increased their knowledge of the game.

The season had many high spots, with fine individual performances by many team members, and an especially exciting win in the last game, when the team scored a safety against Chatham for the game's only score.

Even with the setbacks suffered during the season, the team played with determination and good sportsmanship, which are always important in any team effort.

Zest And Enthusiasm From Cheer Clubs

Long afternoons of try-outs in the gym, practice at home and after school, screaming till you're hoarse, clapping, and lots of smiles—you must be a cheerleader!

The Eighth and Ninth Cheer Clubs, led by Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Lynch, lend pep, enthusiasm and hope to our football and basketball teams throughout the year.

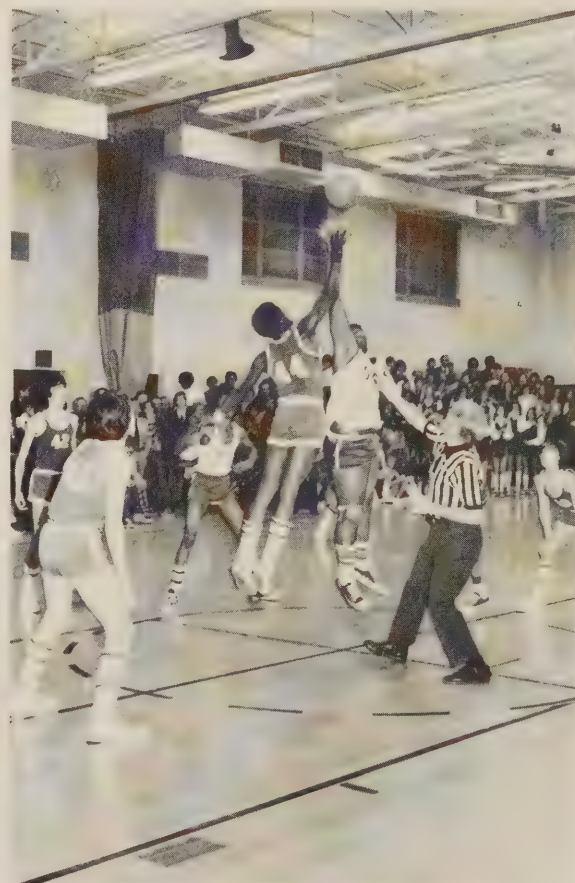

The girls certainly helped carry out their main objective—to foster school spirit and good sportsmanship at school athletic events. They did a good job, and the teams and school are thankful for them!

The Eighth Grade basketball team provided a lot of excitement for FCJHS fans this year, with a 8-7 season which doesn't show the excitement unless you look at the individual game scores. Some games were walk-aways, some were squeekers, but all were fascinating to watch.

Team members got a taste of competition and a chance to improve and build their basketball skills, and in their play showed advancement and determination.

Basketball Experience For Ninth Grade

Improving over last year's record, the Ninth Grade basketball team, led by Mr. Jones, finished with a 6-9 season. Team members worked hard during the season to sharpen and refine their basketball skills, and the work paid off.

Recognition came to FCJHS, not just for the team's play, but for their fine sportsmanship and representation at all games. Well done for a fine season!

Girl's Intramurals

This was the first year for the girl's intramural basketball team, coached by Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Hylton. The girls learned the basic skills and rules of the game, and also how to play and work together in teams.

After their work on basics, the girls formed teams, and played each other. They met for about two months in the fall, and all agreed it was lots of fun.

Boy's Intramurals

The Boy's Intramural program, in its third year, saw a new coach and an expanded season. As in previous years, the program seeks to give basketball training outside the regular gym classes and school teams. The boys met after school and on Saturdays, and besides having a good time, they worked to improve their skills and play on teams. Mr. Highfill served as coach for the intramurals this year.

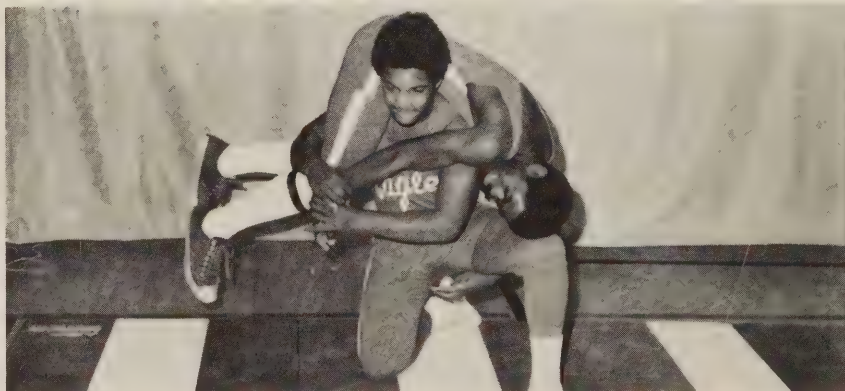

Row One: C. Chitwood, R. Matherly, R. Robertson. Row Two: L. Tuning, R. Prillaman, M. Laury, K. Fuller. Row Three: Coach McGrew.

As in previous years, the FCJHS Wrestlers worked on learning and refining wrestling skills and maneuvers for use and contribution to the high school team. Other than participating in a meet in March, the team did not enter into any actual competition, though they did attend meets with the high school team. Mr. McGrew serves as coach for the team, and led the boys as they worked to be ready for future competition.

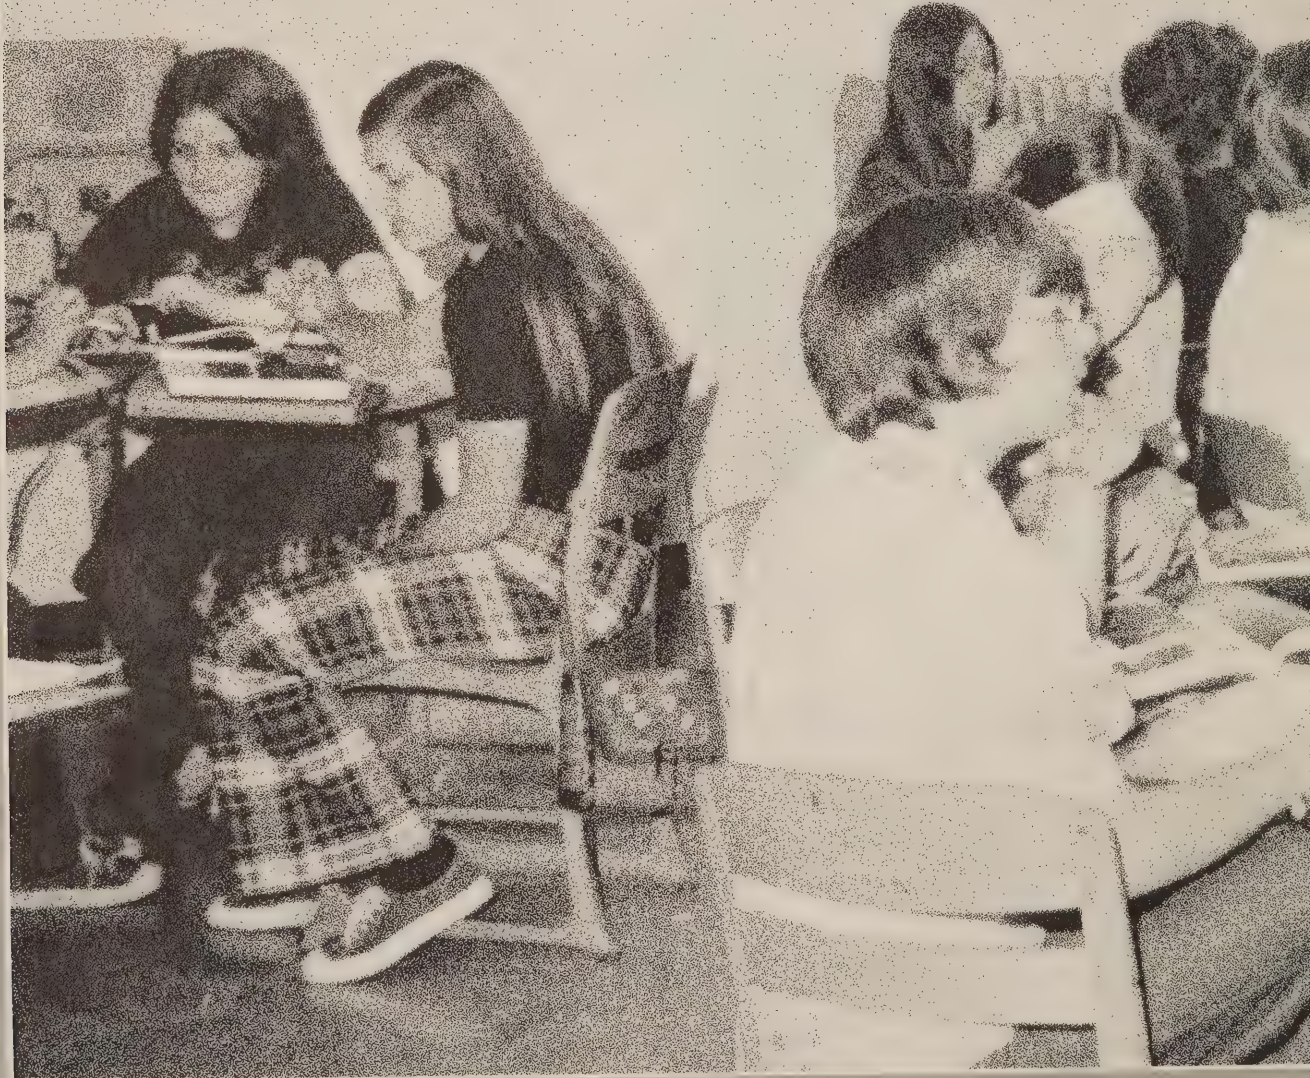

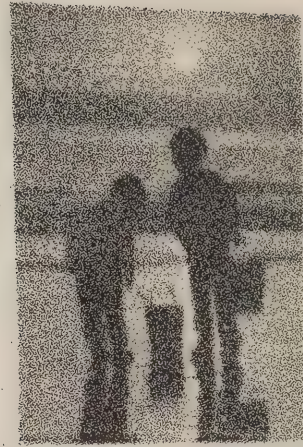

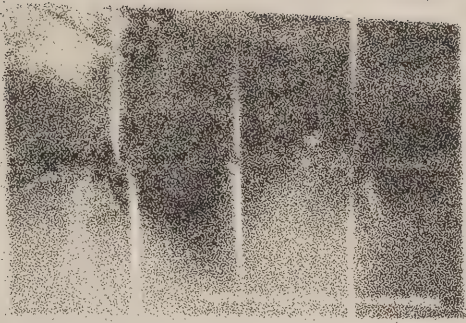

Spring '74 Track

Spring Track '74 provided experience and fun for 29 participants and their coaches, Mr. Clayton and Mr. Parcell. In both home and away meets, the team members competed in track and field events which included races, vaulting, individual and team efforts. As track and field increases in popularity, the experience gained by team members will be vital, and their progress will help the high school team.
